JUSTICE MUST GOVERN PEACE

British Premier Hopes Allies Will Not Display Any Spirit of Revenge.

MANY NATIONS REBORN

Small Countries in Europe Will Require a League of Nations to Protect Them in the Future.

Amsterdam, Nov. 14.—Long trains crowded with German soldiers, who left the front on their own initiative, have arrived in Hanover and at cities in Westphalia, according to dispatches to the Handelsblad.

London, Nov. 14.—"One of the principal issues at the forthcoming general election will be the nature of the peace settlement. It will mean the settlement of the world."

Premier Lloyd George made this announcement in an address to his Liberal supporters.

"What are the principles on which that settlement is to be effected?" he asked. "Are we to lapse back into the old national rivalries, animosities? It is the duty of Liberalism to use its influence to ensure that it shall be a reign of peace."

Justice Must Rule.

"What are conditions of peace? They must lead to a settlement which must be fundamentally just. No settlement that contravenes the principles of eternal justice will be a permanent one."

Peace of 1871 Outrage.

"The peace of 1871 imposed by Germany on France outraged all the peace of justice and fair play. Let us be warned by that example."

"We must not allow any sense of revenge, any spirit of greed, any grasping desire to override the fundamental principles of righteousness."

"A large number of small nations have been reborn in Europe, and these will require a league of nations to protect them against the covetousness of ambitious and grasping neighbors. In my judgment a league of nations is absolutely essential to permanent peace."

"We shall go to the peace conference to guarantee that a league of nations is a reality."

ARMY STAFF DRAWS PLANS

Move on Foot to Reorganize War Department.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Plans for the reorganization of the War department and the army itself are in process of formulation by the general staff and soon will be before Secretary Baker.

Orders for the actual breaking up of the army cannot be promulgated until these plans finally are completed, as the demobilization program is dependent to some extent on the adoption of a reorganization policy.

The secretary has indicated that new legislation will be necessary to carry out the reorganization, and is expected to lay a definite program before Congress at the earliest possible moment.

CONSIDERS TERMS TERRIBLE

German Paper Says Conditions Must Be Carried Out.

Basel, Nov. 14.—The Socialist Vorwaerts of Berlin describes the German armistice conditions as "terrible" and adds:

"Since the old regime has collapsed, the new government must accept the conditions and execute them loyally. The treaties have been signed and must be executed. It will be the task of the new government to conclude rapidly the best peace possible."

Worry Spoils Everything.

More mistakes are induced through worry than any other cause in the world. We fret ourselves into a frame of mind that induces just what we wish to avoid. Go about your work carefully and with faith in your own ability. If you fail today, have faith that tomorrow you will do better. Do not let the little foxes of worry "spoil the vines" of honest endeavor.

How the Turks Fought

One of the most barbarous methods of warfare that has ever been witnessed was that employed by the Turkish troops in Palestine when they attempted to stop the victorious British drive. Sharpened stakes were stuck in the ground at an angle of forty-five degrees, behind which steel hoops were fastened upright. Behind these ditches were dug, more stakes planted and the whole backed up with barbed wire entanglements.

WILSON ASSURES GERMAN PEOPLE

U. S. to Send Food and Supplies If New Government Will Maintain Order.

MUST HAVE GUARANTY

Allied High Command Refuses to Modify Armistice Terms Beside Adding 24 Hours for Evacuation by Foe.

London, Nov. 14.—A message has been sent by French wireless from the Allied high command to the German high command saying there can be no modification of the armistice conditions, including the annexes, at this time.

It is added that a supplementary period of 24 hours for the evacuation of Belgium, Luxembourg and Alsace-Lorraine has been added to the 14 days stipulated in the original text, so as to permit the text to reach German headquarters at the desired time.

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Wilson has sent a reassuring message to the people of Germany in reply to the appeal from Chancellor Ebert. He promises to aid Germany in the matter of food supplies and in relieving distressing want.

The reply was sent by Secretary Robert Lansing through Minister Sulzer of Switzerland, who delivered Ebert's request for intervention by the president to mitigate the "fearful conditions" threatened through enforcement of the armistice terms.

It says steps are to be taken at once to organize relief work in the same systematic manner in which it was carried out in Belgium, but that the president desires to be assured that public order will be maintained in Germany and that an equitable distribution of food can be clearly guaranteed.

Text of Answer.

Secretary Lansing's note to the Swiss minister follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of today, transmitting to the president the text of a cable inquiring whether this government is ready to send foodstuffs into Germany without delay if public order is maintained in Germany and an equitable distribution of food is guaranteed."

"I should be grateful if you would transmit the following reply to the German government:

Pledges Aid to Foe.

"At a joint session of the two houses of congress on Nov. 11, the president of the United States announced that the representatives of the associated governments in the supreme war council at Versailles have by unanimous resolution assured the peoples of the Central Empires that everything that is possible in the circumstances will be done to supply them with food and relieve the distressing want that is in so many places threatening their very lives; and that steps are to be taken immediately to organize these efforts at relief in the same systematic manner that they were organized in the case of Belgium."

"Furthermore, the president expressed the opinion that by the use of the idle tonnage of the Central Empires it ought presently to be possible to lift the fear of utter misery from their oppressed populations and set their minds and energies free for the great hazardous tasks of political construction which now face them on every hand."

"Accordingly, the president now directs me to state that he is ready to consider favorably the supplying of foodstuffs to Germany and to take up the matter immediately with the Allied governments, provided he can be assured that public order is being and will continue to be maintained in Germany, and that an equitable distribution of food can be clearly guaranteed."

AUSTRIA NOW A REPUBLIC

State Council Proclaims Kingdom Is at an End.

London, Nov. 14.—Austria formally passed out of existence as a nation when the state council at Vienna proclaimed the Germanic portion of the former Hapsburg empire a part of the new German republic. This action was reported in Vienna dispatches to Copenhagen and the information is believed to be authentic, as it comes upon the heels of the abdication of Emperor Karl. At the same time the former emperor issued a manifesto declaring that he was forsaking all participation in the affairs of German Austria.

Literature's Beginning in America.

The North American Review was established in 1815; Bryant's "Thann-topis" was published in 1817; and when the good-natured Monroe, after a presidency that was called "the era of good feeling" went out of office, although Whittier was still a boy on his father's farm, and Longfellow and Hawthorne were still undergraduates at Bowdoin college, and Emerson was still a country schoolteacher, American literature was born. The thing was settled.—Thomas Wentworth Higginson.

A Good Rule

THE average person who lays by some of his income or comes into possession of a sum of money is often perplexed as to the best plan of investing his funds.

First, he wants safety. Then, he wants his money where he can get it if necessary; and he wants the best rate consistent with security.

Here is a good rule to follow: Funds which you may want to use in a short time should never be tied up in securities which will not mature for a long time, or which cannot be converted quickly into cash.

A Savings Account with this bank offers an ideal method for the investment and accumulation of funds.

A Savings Account here never slumps in value. It is always worth par, and if money is left to interest dates, par and accrued interest. The investor's money is under his own control. There is no element of speculation in this form of investment.

Does not a Savings Account with this strong bank appeal to you as an investment?

WOMAN'S REALM

NEW BRIDAL VEIL

White Chiffon Edged With Silver Gauze Ribbon.

Cut in Wide Panel Back and Front, Gathered at Top to Bandeau That Fits Low on Head.

One cannot help but notice the change to square, boxlike lines in garments or accessories worn above the waist, while the skirts take on bias lines and spiral draperies. It is an odd combination. Even a bridal veil, observes a fashion correspondent, has been made in an entirely new manner and was shown at an exhibition which always includes one quite fascinating bridal costume. This veil, by the way, may be worth describing in detail for November brides.

It is of thin white chiffon, a novelty indeed. It is cut in a wide panel back and front, gathered at the top to a bandeau that fits low on the head, on a level with the eyebrows. There is nothing over the top of the head. The chiffon falls over the face to the toes in front and to the hem of the trainless skirt in back. It falls apart from the bandeau, down each side, where it is bordered with a supple quality of silver gauze ribbon.

The bridal veil, while it is the most novel touch, is a companion to another novelty in veils that looks peculiarly like the chin band which is held out by the beauty specialists as a trick, above all others, to reduce a double chin.

It has taken the place of the floating veil of October among those who go in for the smart thing. It is usually of mauve, gray or black lace net. It is drawn tightly over and under the chin, then upward to the top of the hat, where it is fastened with a jeweled ornament. It is called the "bandage" veil. It does not cover the eyes and drapes a little loosely just below them. It leaves the back of the neck and the hair exposed. This chin veil,

This original wedding veil is of two panels of chiffon gathered to a bandeau, which is worn low over the forehead.

by the way, is as effective as the chin band, as it draws up all the surplus flesh from the front of the neck and the side of the cheek and gives one a decidedly sharpened and youthful line.

This veil is supposed to be particularly smart for young women with the new overseas cap which is made of squirrel, sealskin, chinchilla or khaki-colored panne velvet. The cap is an exact reproduction of those our soldiers wear, and it is tilted forward over one eye in the same rakish manner.

MAKING OVER VELOURS HAT

Headgear That Is Too Large May Be Remade Into Latest and Pleasing Style.

A simple and effective way of "making over" a large, unfashionable velours hat is to cut a band perhaps an inch and a half wide from the brim. Then take this band and place it around the crown, tying the ends in a loose knot at the side or in the front, as one's taste dictates. There is no question of matching colors, and the curve of the band makes the "trimming" fit especially well.

If the hat is altogether too large, cut the band rather wider at the back. When the band is removed, a short back poke is left. The wide portion of the severed band may be cut in the shape of quills, the edges neatly wired. The narrower part should be cut in two or three strips and twisted around the crown, while the "quills" are placed in front.

The Difference. The fool shows his folly and knows it not, but the wise guy knows his folly and shows it not.

Scallen-Moran

The wedding of Miss Rose Scallen, daughter of E. F. Scallen of Brainerd and Henry W. Moran of Minneapolis, took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Stephen's church, Minneapolis, Rev. Fr. Gaughn officiating.

The bride wore a charming dress of taupe brown satin and georgette with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of pink and white roses.

Mr. Moran's best man was Geo. Zell and Miss Mary Scallen was bridesmaid.

A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony only the immediate relatives being present. After a short wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Moran will make their future home in Minneapolis.

IN MEMORY OF MISS EMMA BARTLING

Peacefully her form is resting. After days of weariness. While she cheered so many sad ones With her love and tenderness.

When we saw her strong and happy. Just a little while ago. Little dreamed we then how transient Would her life be here below.

For her life was full of promise. With her many works and school. But sweeter lessons she is learning. Where so gently Christ doth rule.

There the harmony is perfect. With the instruments of gold. There no friendship can be broken. And sweet peace doth all enfold.

And we would not thence recall her. From this life's uncertain way. For the Lord who gave has taken. Her to dwell in endless day.

Nov. 13th, 1918.

Maxims for Marksmen.

It is strange that the novice will almost invariably try to hit the bull's eye of a swinging target when it is at the center or in the lowest position. This is decidedly the incorrect method. The expert knows that the time to shoot is at the end of the swing. In fact, anyone will arrive ultimately at the same conclusion, for a little thought will convince him that a target is the more easily hit when at a standstill, or at the end of a vibration.

The moving target as a rule has the largest bull's eye, and is often one of the easiest to strike, if you happen to know how.

Simply aim at the point where the center of the target stops and wait till it returns. Then, bang!

Raven Not Extinct in England.

The assertion, made in some London papers, that the raven is practically extinct in England, has been denied by a dweller on Exmoor. The raven, according to this bird watcher, is by no means rare in Somerset, where he is often seen and heard. The story of his having a dummy nest to mislead marauders is due to a misunderstanding of the bird's habit of sometimes building a new nest instead of repairing the old one. Ravens have a place in many old legends in Europe, and cannot be spared any more than can the stork of Alsace and Lorraine.

ANOTHER GRAND DUKE QUILTS

William Ernst of Saxe-Weimar Latest to Abdicate.

Basel, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Berlin says Grand Duke William Ernst of Saxe-Weimar has abdicated in order to prevent civil war.

The dispatch adds that republics have been proclaimed in Wurttemberg and Hesse.

The new government in Baden has been constituted under the presidency of Herr Jeiss, Socialist.

Victory Colors Favored.

New York, Nov. 13.—"Victory colors" for goods, in red, white and blue produced by the country's industries engaged in manufacturing and selling woolsens, silks, millinery and the like, were announced here by the Textile Color Card association, comprising wholesalers and retailers in these lines of goods. The standardized trade colors selected are "cherry" for the red and "navy" for the blue, and these, with white, will be the recognized "victory colors" in the making of goods.

DREARY ROUND OF MONOTONY

Sample of Terrible Price That Is Sometimes Demanded by the Mcloch of Modern Industry.

His face always wore the same expression—the look of the stoker who comes to the deck for a breath of fresh air. His business was, once every second, to give a certain machine a twist in order that a piece of wire might bend into a circle. He had done this sort of thing so long that two fingers had acquired a peculiar hardened curvature. One shoulder was lower than the other. He knew no other business.

It seems that the man had had an unusual boyhood. While others were at their sport, his hours were spent in passionate reverie. The literature of romantic chivalry, the story of followers of the Cross, the fine heroism of soul-starving deeds for others claimed him and made him tremulous with aspiration. He knew of nothing larger, more captivating for him than a life asked out in some remote field of self-sacrifice for the redemption of the human race. And to this he pledged himself. But then his father died. Ruin was the specter at the funeral feast. An unnamed Nemesis pursued him, try as he might to keep faith with himself and the call of mortal hunger. Self-sacrifice.

Yes, the screw-eye is a very useful article.—Boston Transcript.

FOOD FOR ALL THE WORLD

No Fear of Starvation While the Banana Grows With Its Present Wonderful Productivity.

Concerning the value of banana flour there is no possible question. Henry M. Stanley, while he was in Darkest Africa, tested that matter thoroughly. For something like two years it was one of the staple foods on which he lived, and his testimony regarding it is both clear and convincing, though the flour he had was made in the most primitive fashion, by the natives among whom he was living, and was not comparable, save in the single particular of cost, with the flour that has been produced and is being produced today in New York city.

The world's available supply of bananas is practically inexhaustible. Growing wild as the banana does with all the excessive productivity of tropical vegetation, in localities far outside the ken of civilization, there is no way of estimating the possible extent of the annual crop, but it may be said that enough bananas to feed the world grow somewhere each year.

Moreover, modern science has discovered the methods by which this banana flour can be made of the partially ripe fruit in such fashion that it will keep almost indefinitely almost anywhere.

Mending a Sagging Door.

It rattled the tidy nature of the handy man to have to pull and jerk at his door to open it, and then to have to coax and push to shut it. A door should fit in its frame, like a stopper in a bottle, he thought. A cursory examination disclosed that it struck at the bottom. Of course, it would have been so easy just to plane off the surplus. But, at the bottom! He tried tightening the screws in the upper hinge, which were quite loose, but found the wood so soft that even longer screws would not hold. There seemed to be nothing to do but remove the upper hinge, dig out the soft wood and insert in its place a piece of new wood, which held the hinge screws firmly and prevented the door from sagging.

SCOUTS KEPT BUSY

British Boys Realize They Live in Stirring Times.

Patrol Leader Griggs and Pirate Have Adventures Which Would Seem to Furnish Quite a Number of Thrills.

"Me and Pirate saw her first," said Patrol Leader Griggs, when asked to recall the most recent maritime mishap of which, as a boy scout, he had official cognizance. "It was only the other day, and we'd been sent on special patrol along the cliff, two one way and two t'other, the sea fog being so thick. She was quite close in, but you could only just see her in the mist—a fair-sized steamer, and not moving, so I knew she was on the sand."

Griggs sent the Pirate back post haste, says "A. E. C." in London Daily Chronicle, that a rocket apparatus might be sent and the nearest lifeboat warned.

"The strange part was she didn't hoot or nothing," said Griggs—"not a sound. I holla'd, but they wouldn't be likely to hear. Also I took off my jersey and waved it, just to let 'em know help 'ud be coming, but I don't think they saw."

Within 45 minutes Pirate returned in company with the rocket apparatus and its crew.

"And what do you think?" exclaimed Griggs indignantly, "at first they wouldn't take his word for it up at the station. Was he quite sure he hadn't made a mistake, if you please! Just as if I don't know a stranded steamer when I see one!"

The rocket was successfully fired and the tackle made fast on the steamer. But crew and vessel owed their rescue to the alternative aid brought by the boys' summons.

"When the lifeboat came up," explained Griggs, "they passed her a warp, and she put an anchor out, and the steamer hauled herself back into deep water."

I asked about the scar on Griggs' knee.

"It was a beastly dark night," he replied, "when that happened. There was a parcel for the next station and I was taking it half-way, to meet one of their boys coming up—both on our bikes. I was going at a fair lick, and ran into a big biscuit tin that some silly ass had left in the middle of the road. At least it sounded like a biscuit tin, but I didn't go hunting round to find out what it was. The blood wasn't half running down my leg, so I got back as quick as I could."

"Do you find bicycles useful in coast watching?"

"They're all right to anyone used to them. I lent my bike to Pirate once—but never again! A mine was reported ashore a mile and a half along the coast. Pirate was told to hurry there and stand watch over it till the motorboat came to make it harmless. There's some sand holes and deep cuttings along the cliff, and being in too much of a hurry to see where he was going Pirate fell into pretty near all of them. Then he stuck the bike into a hedge and ran the rest."

"Have you ever had a mine come ashore and explode?"

"One did. It made a most tremendous loud noise, only I didn't hear it myself, being asleep at the time."

"Did it do much damage?"

"Depends on what you call much," replied Griggs judiciously. "A man's shoulder put out of joint and about a thousand quids' worth of broken windows."

Little Romance of Today.

There is a flavor of sheer romance about that Partizanski flag with its Scottish thistle, English rose, and Russian bear embroidered by the English ladies of Kermanshah, which figures in a striking little dispatch from a correspondent of the Times of London. Partizanski is a Cossack under the command of Bicharakoff, "the man with the face of an iron dreamer" met, with his troop, by the way, at Kasri Shirin. There was a Colonel Leslie among that Cossack troop who spoke no word of French and only a word or two of English, having been an "exile," as he put it, "for over three hundred years," an ancestor of his having come to Russia in the reign of Ivan. He had read of pipes, in his family records, but it was at Mendall, on the inhospitable borders of Luristan, that he heard the music of them for the first time, and it was a Punjabi piper who played the Cossacks in.

German Chemists at Work.

The activity of German chemists is shown in technical journals received through neutral countries. One of the new products is a safety detonator, which is stated to be a cheap and effective substitute for fulminate of mercury. The latter, besides being costly, is very dangerous to handle and in the caps is unstable, a little dampness causing it to attack the copper or brass, forming a copper salt far more explosive than the fulminate itself. The new filling is a mixture of potassium chlorate and antimony sulphide—neither explosive. Held against this by a thin strip of tin is a varnish of gum lacquer containing ground red phosphorus and a little disphenylamine, and as the hammer strikes the cap, ignition is produced by friction of the phosphorous against the charge.

Safe and Sane.

"You bought a lot of Liberty bonds?" "Yes. A Liberty bond was about the only thing I found that could be bought at its regular value during war times."

GERMANY IS ANXIOUS

Foreign Secretary Wants Preliminary Peace Meeting.

Washington Officials Are Inclined to Believe Real Purpose Is Not Disclosed.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The proposal of Dr. Solf, German foreign secretary, for a preliminary peace conference has not reached Washington in official form, but it is understood there is little probability of its acceptance.

Such a conference is regarded here as unnecessary and as likely to uselessly complicate the work of the general conference when it is held.

Ostensibly Dr. Solf's proposal is based upon the urgent need of Germany for food and other supplies, but it is pointed out that these conditions will be dealt with by the United States and Allies in advance of the peace conference under the general pledges contained in the armistice and given by the supreme war council at Versailles.

In some quarters here it is suspected that Dr. Solf's real purpose is to have the preliminary conference dispose of political matters, such as the future of the German colonies and trade relations between the Central powers and the nations with which they had been at war, in the hope of being able thus speedily to re-establish German foreign trade.

GENERAL STRIKE IN EFFECT

Peculiar Conditions Said to Exist in Switzerland.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Switzerland's general strike, which commenced this week, has objects which are revolutionary and political rather than economic, and has had direct incitement from the Bolshevik organization of Russia, according to Hans Sulzer, Swiss minister to the United States.

Mr. Sulzer sketched circumstances leading up to the strike. Though without information as to the progress of the movement, he expressed complete confidence that it would fall to break down the present Swiss government, which, he said, had the support of the overwhelming proportion of the population.

BRITAIN HAS BIG BALANCE

Loans to Allies and Colonies Exceed Debts Abroad.

London, Nov. 14.—In discussing the financial situation in the house of commons, Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, said that Great Britain had loaned to her Allies in the war more than $7,000,000,000, and to the dominions, $1,000,000,000. Great Britain's debts abroad are not expected to exceed $5,000,000,000.

The chancellor praised the part taken in the war by the dominions and India. He said the dominions had fought for the empire, "which is as much theirs as ours," and not for the mother country.

GIVE THANKFULLY!

Think of the American boys overseas who have risked their lives for YOU! Boys who, without ever hearing your name or seeing your face, confronted an actual hell for your sake—and won!

Then you will want them to enjoy all the "mothering" they can possibly have until they come back to their own proud and happy mothers and the America that they have glorified.

It is such a little thing after all—this giving of a few dollars or a few hundred to the welfare Thanksgiving fund for their benefit—but to them it will mean all the difference between comfort and barrenness, and they will have the cheer of knowing that we are back of them.

Workers have returned from overseas with mention of the awful loneliness that confronts the troops. The services of the welfare agencies are absolutely necessary to meet these and other conditions equally hard which our boys must face.

They have saved the world! It is for us to lighten the weary period of waiting in the only possible way. Let your thankfulness open your purse—wide—wide—and give to the very last cent that you can spare! GIVE THANKFULLY!

OUR PRESENT TAX RATE

The charter of the city of Brainerd under which the city has been operating for several years and is today, only permits a CITY TAX RATE of TEN MILLS. However, there has been added to this for a few years past, a one-half mill extra to cover the appropriation to the band for its summer concerts and music furnished on other public occasions.

It is beyond dispute that the present tax rate is insufficient to meet the ordinary expenses of the city under the most economical administration, with practically no provision for repairing our streets and nothing whatever for permanently improving them and further, not a cent having been paid for months for lighting our streets or furnishing water from hydrants for fire purposes, both of which cost money and must be eventually faced and some provision made to meet the cost.

So short has the city been of funds during the past year that judgments have been entered against it, which you will find in the 1917 levy represented by an addition of 2.15 mills, which shows conclusively that certain claims against the city if not paid in the usual manner and from regular taxes, will be sued, entered in judgment, and added to your taxes with a considerable increase of the original item covering the cost of the suit and the entering of judgment. Is it not painfully humiliating to realize that this method may be necessary in order to pay the bills which must necessarily be contracted by our board of health in its fight against the Spanish influenza epidemic that has been so prevalent in our city for several weeks.

Such in the unfortunate position of Brainerd today. It is absolutely impossible to create sufficient revenue from our present tax rate for even the most necessary purposes.

In tomorrow's issue we will show how much lower the city tax rate is in Brainerd today than in other cities.

Fine Mental Exercise.

The finest mental exercise we can think of is the practice of doing that which you dislike to do. If you will switch from kicking yourself every day into doing certain things that you must do, to going at them with a relish and a vim, you will be surprised at the difference it will make in your disposition.

The Girl and the Bishop

HE was one of the best known American bishops, preaching straight-out, man-fashion sermons to the boys in France. Everywhere they liked what he said and the way he said it.

On a certain night last summer, he was scheduled to speak in the big hut in one of the largest centers. His subject was announced. The hour was set for eight o'clock. Everything was ready.

Then came the telegram. It came in the middle of the afternoon. It threw the head Secretary into a frenzy. It was from Paris.

It said that the most popular American actress in France would arrive to give her performance that evening!

The girl and the bishop at once!

A hurried consultation was held and then it was explained to the bishop how matters stood.

"What time does she arrive?" asked the bishop.

"A little after eight o'clock," said some one.

"Then it's perfectly simple," the bishop went on. "Move my meeting ahead to seven o'clock. It will last only forty-five minutes. Then clear the hut, re-arrange the benches and bring on your musical comedy star!"

"Do you mean it?" they gasped.

"Why, of course!"

And that is exactly what they did. At 7.45 o'clock the bishop closed his meeting and at 8:15 o'clock the actress began her show, from the same stage.

There was no pretense about it—no attempt to get an audience for a religious meeting by announcing a vaudeville show. Each gathering was announced for exactly what it was. And at both gatherings the hut was packed!

The American soldier needs diversion and entertainment as well as he needs religion. He gets both at his hut—each one in its place, each one clearly defined, honestly labelled, sincerely offered.

This United War Work Campaign is for funds to carry clean, wholesome amusement to the soldiers as much as to provide them with the athletic, educational, religious and social background of home. BREAKS WITH HUNGARY

Transylvania Probably Will Unite With Roumania.

Province Declares Its Independence and Seeks American and Allied Support.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Independence from Hungary has been declared by Transylvania, which, with the support of America and the Allies, expects reunion with Roumania. Militia has been organized by the local authorities.

Roumania volunteer troops to the number of nearly 50,000 are said to have crossed the border into Transylvania as an army of occupation. These forces were made up largely of Roumanians who returned from Russia and Siberia after the Russian debacle.

New Roumanian Ministry. Jassy, Nov. 14.—The Roumanian ministry, headed by Alexander Marghiloman, leader of the conservatives, has been replaced by one composed of generals. The new cabinet is presided over by General Coanda, who also takes the post of minister of foreign affairs. The portfolios of war and interior have been assumed by General Grigoresco and General Vau-miano respectively.

DRY AMENDMENT IS BEATEN

Minnesota Voters Reject Constitutional Prohibition.

Minneapolis, Nov. 14.—The "wets" have won in Minnesota, late figures on the prohibition amendment vote indicated. The count is so close, however, that the result may not be known until complete official figures are in.

In 70 counties out of 86, official returns made public by Secretary of State Julius Schmah, show the "drys" 4,977 short of a total vote majority.

Clamor for Civil Rule.

Paris, Nov. 14.—French Socialists are demanding that the administration of affairs under military law be ended immediately and that a general election be held at once to take action on the problems arising out of the economic and political reorganization of the country. The party leaders declare that measures of reorganization must be taken up with the General Labor Federation and that representatives of the working classes be present at the peace conference.

DR. C. E. MORELL HAS PASSED AWAY

Young Physician Claimed by Spanish Influenza, Was an Associate of
Dr. J. A. Thabes

PROMINENT AT MINNESOTA "U"

Born in Verdale, Leaves Wife and Parents Were Dr. and Mrs. W.
N. Morell of Verdale

Spanish influenza Thursday morning claimed one of the youngest physicians in Brainerd, Dr. Clifford E.
Morell, age 31, who passed away at a local hospital in the early morning hours.

Dr. Morell was an associate of Dr.
J. A. Thabes of Brainerd. He was born in Verdale. He attended the University of Minnesota medical department, graduating in 1914 with high honors. Of strong physique, he took great interest also in athletics and played center in the championship football team of the university in 1910 and 1911, being elected captain in the fall of 1911. He was also prominent in amateur baseball, playing catcher.

After his graduation he served as interne a year and a half in the City Hospital in Minneapolis, then practiced two years in Verdale, last spring in Sebeka and then on July 1 became associated with Dr. Thabes of Brainerd, where his kindly bearing and skill as a physician soon won him hosts of friends.

During the influenza epidemic in Brainerd he had been tireless in his administration of cases and gave his life in behalf of humanity.

One June 1 this year he was married to Miss Helen Dohner of Oshkosh, Wis. He leaves also to mourn ba Passed Away in

John Tuomi, age 29, employed at the Northern Pacific tie treating plant, died of Spanish influenza. He leaves a wife and four children of which the oldest is four years of age, all sick with influenza. He was a member of the Brainerd Modern Woodmen and the Brotherhood of All Railway Employees.

Mrs. Margaret Torba, wife of Joseph R. Torba, of 424 Third Avenue

cil of Defense, Women's Committee of Brainerd, has received an urgent appeal from Chair-adopt the custom that now prevails at Washington, D. C., and tuting a moment's silence at

CORP. A. N. BREKKE. HOME ON FURLOUGH

In Training at Camp Dodge, Iowa,
Where he has Been the Last Four Months as Recruit

TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCES

Made a Corporal After Three Weeks of Intensive Training, Expects to go to Siberia

Corporal A. N. Brekke, one of the gallant printers of Brainerd, being of the Brainerd Tribune force, is home on a short furlough from Camp Dodge, Iowa, whither he went in June of this year.

Intensive training resulted in Brekke being made a corporal in three weeks after his arrival. Corporal Brekke has words of praise for the way the government has handled the immense undertaking of assisting to bring the Germans to their knees.

The Spanish influenza assailed the camp and before the epidemic was checked over 10,000 cases were recorded with 702 deaths. There were 69 in Corporal Brekke's company and five deaths. The negroes are especially susceptible and very superstitious.

A colored man would go to the camp doctors on sick report and say:
"Doc, I believe I've got the flu. I know I've got it." Shortly after he would fall out of ranks.

Pat Willis, said Corp. Brekke, has been promoted to head cook of a colored company after completing a course in the cooks' and bakers' school.

Corp. Brekke said he saw Lieut.
Henry Mills before he embarked overseas. The lieutenant was looking sood. He also saw Oscar Kannen-berg of the hospital corps and Dick Whitford.

Corp. Brekke has received some interesting letters from Corp. Chester Darling of the "Stars and Stripes" soldiers' paper who has visited all the battlefields of Europe and whose headquarters are in Paris. Darling motors from camp to camp and spent a month in the trenches at Flanders associating with the cooties.

The Second Infantry, one of the oldest military organizations in the country, stationed for years in the Hawaiian Islands, and the 14th Infantry stationed in Alaska, have arrived at Camp Dodge to form a nucleus for the new 19th division. The drafted men of November 11 were turned back at Camp Dodge as per telegraphic instructions from Washington. Some of them felt awful bad.

Corp. Brekke was in Des Moines, Iowa, at the time of the peace celebration. The town went riotously crazy and deliriously insane and took some days to recover.

Corp. Brekke, always sturdy and erect in civilian life, has made an ideal sort of a soldier and the Typographical Union of Brainerd, 523, is proud of Brekke as well as Anton Swenson of the Dispatch force in the army over there and Albert Broman in the navy.

Sergeant-Major Emil Thorgard, son of Mrs. J. W. Blake of West Brain-

N. M. D. A. CONVEN- TION SET JAN. 15-16

So Decided by the Executive Com-tee—Action Taken After Board of Health Ruling

ADDITION REGULAR PROGRAM

Roger M. Andrews of Menominee, Mich., Will Discuss "Sheep For Northern Minnesota"

The date of the annual convention of the Northern Minnesota Development Association has been definitely set for January 15-16, 1919, it having been decided by the executive committee to put the convention over from the original date, November 20-21 to this time. This action was taken after consultation with the State Board of Health and to avoid any possibility of its being interfered with by the epidemic of influenza, now prevailing in Minnesota.

Secretary Fred T. Lincoln has been fortunate in securing Roger M. Andrews of Menominee, Mich., in addition to the regular program, recently published. Mr. Andrews will discuss, "Sheep for Northern Minnesota," and is recognized as one of the best posted men in the country on the subject. He is the publisher of the Clover-Land Magazine, devoted to the agricultural interests of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. He has been very successful in encouraging farmers and others to import sheep into his section of the country and will give first hand information on the subject. In view of the fact that this has been one of the important features of the Northern Minnesota Development Association conventions for the last three years, it is felt that the organization has been very fortunate in securing one who is recognized as authority on the subject to speak at the coming convention. Mr. Andrews, in a letter to Secretary Lincoln, referring to the possibilities for the sheep industry in this section writes:

"He must be dull indeed who cannot see the opportunities lying here for the use and development of that great and fertile grass belt which has been so well named Clover-Land.

Geographically it begins in the fifteen counties of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and extends westward across Northern Wisconsin and far into the green fields of Minnesota.
This description of the Clover-Land belt is not the opinion of a local enthusiast, but is the conclusion which has been arrived at officially by the experts of the United States department of agriculture, after an exhaustive examination of the land in question, and which is confirmed by the leading cattle and sheep men in the country."

Settlers and others interested in the development of Northern Minnesota should not fail to attend the coming convention of the Northern Minnesota Development Association,
if for only this one big feature alone, as it is believed it will do much to encourage sheep growing in this section of the state and afford practical information from a leader in this industry in a territory almost identical with ours in quality and quantity of forage afforded and with the same draw-backs, if any exist, to contend with.

TO ALL RESTAURANTS AND HOTELS.

General Order No. 1 for public eating places is hereby modified to this extent.

Pure wheat bread may be served and that restaurants and hotels may buy flour without substitutes. However, the portion in general order No.
1 is not changed and not more than two ounces of wheat bread shall be served at any one time.

New sugar bulletin you will perhaps find in tomorrow's issue of this paper.

A. E. BERGLUND,
County Food Administrator.

FLU MODERATING IN BEMIDJI AND ST. CLOUD

At Bemidji Theatres, Churches, all Public Places Except Schools
Re-opened

THE CONDITIONS AT ST. CLOUD

Granite City Which had 2,000 Cases and Many Deaths Gains Upper Hand Over Epidemic

At Bemidji theatres, churches and all public places, with the exception of the schools, have been reopened after being closed a month on account of the Spanish influenza epidemic.

The order of Mayor Charles Vand-ersluis that all public places should be reopened Monday was made Saturday afternoon, but the Bemidji board of education held a special meeting Saturday evening, at which it was decided that the schools shall remain closed until there is absolutely no danger of the epidemic's renewal.

St. Cloud has raised the ban. The Granite City had 2,000 cases and many deaths but has eventually gained the upper hand over the epidemic.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

It happened on one of Brain-erd's busy streets.

Two girls were conversing.
Said Mamie to her friend:
"Gee, I wish that flu ban would be lifted. I would rather dance than eat."

A. E. Berglund, the county food administrator, passed by just then and remarked sententionally:

"Well, that certainly would suit the food administration in these days."

Three Men and the Vision They Saw

By BRUCE BARTON

In a certain city dwell three men. And by accident of birth one of them is a Catholic and one is a Protestant and one is a Jew.

For thirty years they have engaged in business side by side, and the Catholic has not dealt with the Protestant; and the Catholic and the Protestant have had no dealings with the Jew.

"What is he to me?" each man has said. "He is not of my faith: I will avoid him."

So for thirty years they have dwelt together, strangers in a friendly world.

Then came the shadow of a fearful war. And out of those three homes three boys went forth alone. Three fathers waited heart-worn for the letters from over there.

"There are Soldiers of Friendliness over here," the boys wrote home. "They bring us chocolate, and motion pictures, and baseball, and good lectures; and the memory of mother and of God."

"Help those friendly agencies when you have the chance," each boy wrote home.

So it happened that the three fathers found themselves working shoulder to shoulder in a great campaign for funds.

Not as a Catholic and a Protestant and a Jew—but as good citizens united in a common cause.

And as they worked they came to know each other, and they were ashamed that for so many years they had been strangers side by side.

"Surely this is one of the compensations of war," they said, "that in our deeper love for our boys we have learned a new respect for one another."

So a new spirit was born into that city. As though in its heart it had discovered something of the greater religion, whose God is Father; and whose faith and creed are love.

FIGHTERS REGRET THE EARLY PEACE

OFFICERS AND MEN FEEL THAT GERMANY SHOULD FIRST BE WELL WHIPPED.

NAVY WANTED OPPORTUNITY

Secretary Houston Commends Women's War Work in Agriculture—Forest Service Urges Revival of Use of Wood for Heating.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington.—Letters from "over there" indicate that the officers and men who have already engaged in the big war are not very well pleased with the early peace prospects, or at least they feel that Germany should be thoroughly licked before there are negotiations. As one of them put it, "We ought not to stop just as we have begun to bore in." There is also a feeling that the ending of the war at this time would not afford an opportunity to show to the world just what the United States can do, although the examples of bravery and determination of our troops wherever they have been in battle have been to the everlasting glory of American arms. There will also be some disappointment in the navy on account of the fact that our battleships which make up a part of the Grand fleet, the greatest fighting armada that was ever assembled in the world, have not had an opportunity to show the Germans just what they can do. Ever since the near-clash in Manila bay between the German squadron and that commanded by Admiral Dewey there has been a strong desire on the part of the American navy to get just one crack at the Germans and show them what an American fleet can do when it gets an opportunity.

Secretary Houston of the agricultural department has warmly commended the work which women are doing in the war, and especially through the agricultural department. It appears that women have made themselves very useful in many agricultural districts, not only as lecturers and teachers of farming, but in the actual hard work necessary to be done on the farm in order to raise crops.

Before coal was discovered everyone was satisfied with wood for fuel. If people got along and kept warm with wood fires then, they can now unless their furnace or heating apparatus is suited for coal burning only. At any rate the forest service of the agricultural department declares that in many sections of the country, particularly the New England states, it is practicable to use wood, and asserts further that a "cordwood crop" ought to be profitable. According to department of agriculture officials several million tons of coal could be saved by the use of firewood in the New England and North Central states.

There is still a great demand for books to supply the soldiers through the various camp libraries. People with books of any kind that would make good reading will confer a favor upon the organizations that are helping to make the life of the soldier better if they will send such books to any one of the various war camp activity organizations. They may be sure that they will be properly distributed to the best advantage of the soldiers. The contribution of books is rather a small matter to millions of individuals, but it will mean a lot to the soldiers.

"As usual, just before the elections, 'nuts' letters began to pour in on congressmen. All sorts of patriotic leagues and reform associations with projects to push or having marvelous theories in mind, took their pens in hand and wrote to the powers that be in Washington. The congressional mail that is delivered five times a day at the senate and house office buildings probably contains as many crank ideas as could be got together in any part of the world."

Guarding His Car.
A Hutchinson man who fixed up his car so that the horn blew when a thief tried to start off with the car is so well pleased with the invention, according to the society reporter of the Hutchinson Gazette, that he is now working to perfect a device which will hit the thief over the head with a monkey wrench.—Manhattan (Kan.) Mercury.

Elusive Australian Birds.
No bird of eastern Australia is harder to find than the coachwhip, which comes out of the dense undergrowth only in the early mornings to water. It is the male which is responsible for the whiplike note. The call is often heard but the seeker can rarely see the producer. The female answers the call with "pit-wit-wee" so rapidly that one would think both sounds proceeded from the same bird. If she does not answer he calls again. This time, however, omitting the whiplike crack. The nest is a loosely constructed dwelling of twigs, lined with grass, and is in some well-concealed spot. On the north coast (N. S. W.) it is made in a bunch of spiny vines, which, on account of the spines, makes access to the home almost impossible. There are two eggs at a sitting, bluish white with black markings.

Where Proud Man Fails.
The average man can do almost everything or, at least, he thinks he can, but we have yet to see the first one capable of wheeling a baby buggy straight with one hand.

An Egotist.
Egotists are men who are unable to disguise the fact that they are pleased with themselves.

BRINGS HOME HUN SAVAGERY

Contrast of Present War With That of the Spanish-American Conflict Twenty Years Ago.

One night, 20 years ago, I sat in an army camp in Cuba during the Santiago campaign, listening to a discussion of war weapons. That day some 2,000 men had been killed or wounded in a three hours' battle, which involved all of Shafter's army corps at San Juan hill and at El Caney. The matter which created the most comment was the very small per cent of mortalities in the casualty list. The wounded would nearly all recover, and, except here and there, without permanent injury. Two American staff officers were discussing it and praising the Mauser rifle, which the Spaniards were using. I remember substantially the words of one of the staff officers. He said: "It is a more merciful weapon than the Krag, which we are using, because it is of smaller bore, makes a cleaner wound and puts the other fellow out of business just as effectively as the Krag does without inflicting as dangerous an injury."

I remember that they both agreed that the science of modern war was to knock the other fellow out without slaughtering him. I thought of that old American conception of that twenty-year-old period while visiting yesterday a hospital where Americans were being brought in from the field. Some of the men are indescribably mangled; some wounds lie open as though they had been made with a cleaver—others are of the crushed, ragged kind. I went from this dangerously wounded ward into a neighboring tent, where 200 gassed men with bandaged eyes tossed restlessly. As I thought of the desperately wounded I had just left and of those poisoned men, called upon to defend themselves against an inhuman weapon which gave them no chance to strike blow for blow, I realized the utter savagery to which we have reverted since that gentle day in which we snuk the Spanish navy and made guests of the Spanish army until the hour arrived when we might send the conquered home in chivalry and in honor.—Kansas City Times.

Overcoming Hay Fever.

Hay fever is gradually becoming better understood. From the public health reports, it appears that recent investigations have shown only one person in a hundred to be susceptible, while the susceptibles differ widely in the effects produced on them by the various plant pollens that give rise to the disease. In the eastern and southern United States pollen of the ragweed finds the greatest number of sensitive subjects, the spring type of hay fever being therefore the most common. The smaller number of persons who are affected by grass pollen have the autumnal type of fever. Some persons have both the spring and the autumnal fevers, and about 8 per cent of the susceptibles are sensitive not only to the ragweed and grass pollens, but to various other pollens, including some tree pollens. Such unfortunate are liable to hay fever attacks throughout most of the year. Some patients are affected only when the specific pollen is at its greatest abundance, but others have the disease during the entire season of the plant's pollination.

Perseverance Does It.

"It's the allies' perseverance that is going to win the war," said Senator Lewis.

"The allies suffered defeat after defeat, but from each defeat they learned something."

"It's like the advice the editor of the Chinnaminster Scholar gave to an unlucky wooer who had been rejected by seven girls in turn. The editor wrote:

"Unlucky Wooer: Go ahead. Don't be discouraged. Never say die. You must have learned a lot by what you have gone through. Strikes you must hold something like a record. Well, stick all your experience together and make love to the next girl who comes around and takes your fancy. If she doesn't reciprocate try another. Remember, you only want one girl to say 'Yes,' and she'll probably last your life."

Army Nurses in Peace Times.

There is a corps of regular army nurses maintained in peace times as well as in war times. When nurses volunteer under the Red Cross organization and enter the army service they assume the same status as that of the regular corps of nurses. A nurse aid receives no pay for her services. Transportation and maintenance, however, are supplied. Nurses and nurse aids, sworn into the government service through Red Cross channels, and all nurses employed by the army and navy are under the order of the army and navy medical departments. If a nurse or nurse's aid is incapacitated through service, either in this country or abroad and thereafter, because of disability suffered while in the service, is unable to provide for herself, there is not known under the law any means whereby she can secure the benefits of a pension.

Deaf Mutes Not Good Flyers.

Contrary to a report which has been widely scattered, deaf mutes do not make good airmen, as has been shown by recent tests made by the war department, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This branch of the government is endeavoring to ascertain the source of the false report, which has led many young men to seek enlistment as flyers. In examining a number of deaf mutes it has been found that they are lacking in an adequate sense of equilibrium.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

Do Not Fear When Fighting a German or a Germ!
BY DR. M. COOK

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practice the three C's: A Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels. Such a one is made up of May-apple, leaves of aloë, root of jalap, and is to be had at any drug store and called "Pleasant Purgative Pellets."

If a bad cold develops, go to bed, wrap up well, drink freely of hot lemonade and take a hot mustard foot-bath. Have the bedroom warm but well ventilated. Obtain at the nearest drug store "Auric Tablets" to flush the kidneys and control the pains and aches. Take an "Auric" tablet every two hours, together with copious drinks of lemonade. If a true case of influenza, the food should be simple, such as broths, milk, buttermilk and ice-cream; but it is important that food be given regularly in order to keep up patient's strength and vitality. After the acute attack has passed, which is generally from three to seven days, the system should be built up by the use of good iron tonic, such as "Ironite" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and heral tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.—Adve.

Prevent a Chill.

If you feel a chill coming on begin to exercise. Bathe your hands and wrists in hot water and rub them vigorously. Jump up and down before a fire or a radiator. Drink hot water or a cup of hot tea or chocolate or a glassful of hot milk, seasoned with a little grated nutmeg. If the chill exhausts you, lie down, warmly wrapped in blankets in a warm but well-aired room, with all the hot water bags and electric pads you can lay hands on about you. A chill should never be neglected. It is a symptom that the system has received a severe shock in the way of cold. If it is persistent or severe a physician should be called. Often a chill neglected has led to serious results.

Little Demand.

"A stitch in time saves nine," remarked the ubiquitous quoter. "Yes, that's what they all say," returned the other, "but in all my travels I've never run up against a fellow who is saving them."

Uncle Eben.

"The difficulty," remarked Uncle Wisewind, "about being a professional philosopher is that people keep wakin' you up to ask you why you don't take some of your own advice."

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Do Something Better Than the Other Fellow---

and ADVERTISE

Advertising cannot accomplish the impossible any more than barren ground can yield rich crop.

But how advertising does make things hum when the product and proposition are right, the men and methods above board, when there's an honest purpose and earnest effort from bundle boy to general manager to serve efficiency, to deal honestly, to sell good goods, to price fairly.

Oil up the machinery of your business, imbue your organization with the spirit of true service, make your business worthy of the good will, the confidence, the patronage of the people.

In this fertile field then sow the seed of advertising and it will bring forth abundant crops in increased business and augmented prestige.

Your store news in the Dispatch will be read in practically every home in Brainerd and vicinity every evening.
